What are the key risks that are specific to the Issuer?

The ETNs are subject to the credit risk of the SPC

The ETNs are senior unsecured debt obligations of the SPC and are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of any third party. Any payment to be made in respect of the ETNs, including any payment at maturity, upon Redemption or upon Early Termination (as the case may be), depends on the ability of the SPC to satisfy its obligations as they become due. As a result, any adverse changes in the market's view of creditworthiness of the SPC will affect the market value, if any, of the ETNs prior to maturity, upon Redemption or upon Early Termination (as the case may be). In addition, in the event the SPC was to default on its obligations, you may not receive any amounts owed to you under the terms of the ETNs.

The SPC is a newly established entity with limited track record of operation

The SPC has been established on August 10, 2021 and has limited track record of operation.

Is there a guarantee attached to the Notes?

There is no guarantee attached to the ETNs.

What are the key risks that are specific to the Notes?

The ETNs may not be a suitable investment for you. The ETNs may not be a suitable investment option for you if:

- You do not seek an investment with a return linked to the performance of the Underlying ETF that invests in the bitcoin futures contracts.
- You are not fully aware and understand specific characteristics of virtual currencies such as bitcoin as well as futures on bitcoin.
- You believe that the price of ETNs will decline during the term of the ETNs, or the price of the ETNs will not increase by an amount sufficient to offset accrued Expenses.
- You do not understand that the trading price of the ETNs at any time may vary significantly from the NAV and that paying a premium purchase price over the NAV could lead to significant losses in the event you sell the ETNs at a time when such premium is no longer present in the marketplace or (as the case may be) the SPC exercises Early Termination.
- You are not willing to accept the risk that you may lose some or all of your investment.
- You are not willing to actively and frequently monitor your investment in the ETNs.
- You do not have sufficient knowledge and experience to evaluate how the ETNs may perform under different conditions or the merits and risks of an investment in the ETNs.
- You do not understand the terms of the investment in the ETNs or are not familiar with the behaviour of the securities or financial markets generally.
- You are not willing to hold securities that may be redeemed early by the SPC pursuant to the Early Termination.
- You are not willing to accept the risk that the price at which you are able to sell the ETNs may be significantly less than the amount you invested.
- You do not have sufficient financial resources and liquidity to bear the risks of an investment in the ETNs, including the risk of loss of such investment.
- You seek an investment for which there will be an active secondary market.
- You are not comfortable with creditworthiness of the SPC as issuer of the ETNs.

You should carefully consider whether the ETNs are suited to your particular circumstances before you decide to purchase them. In addition, we urge you to consult with your investment, legal, accounting, tax and other advisors with respect to any investment in the ETNs.

Investors considering purchasing the ETNs should reach an investment decision only after carefully considering the suitability of the ETNs in light of their particular circumstances.

You may lose some or all of your investment. The ETNs are fully exposed to any decline in the Underlying Assets. If the value of the Underlying Assets on the date of your sale is less than the value of the Underlying Assets at the date of your purchase, you will lose some or all of your investment at maturity, upon Redemption or upon Early Termination (as the case may be).

Speculative Nature of Bitcoin. Investing in bitcoin is speculative, prices are volatile and have shown signs of a pricing bubble, and market movements are difficult to predict. Supply and demand for bitcoin can change rapidly and is affected by a variety of factors, including regulation and general economic trends. Accordingly, the price of bitcoin and/or bitcoin futures and/or Shares and/or ETNs may be significantly affected.

Unforeseeable Risks. Bitcoin has gained commercial acceptance only within recent years and, as a result, there is little data on its long-term investment potential. Additionally, due to the rapidly evolving nature of the bitcoin market, including advancements in the underlying technology, changes to bitcoin may expose ETN Holders to additional risks which are impossible to predict as at the date of this Prospectus. This uncertainty makes an investment in the ETNs very risky.

Changes in Legislation. There can be no assurance that certain local and/or international regulations applicable to the digital currency including bitcoin and other digital assets and the treatment of investments in securities associated with bitcoin, will not be changed in a manner which adversely affects the ETNs or ETN Holders.

Absence of protection for digital assets. Digital currencies remain unregulated in most jurisdictions, including AIFC. Similarly, exchanges where digital currencies are traded and digital wallets used to hold, store and transfer digital currencies are unregulated in most jurisdictions, too. This means, that if you buy or hold digital currencies, you will not benefit from the guarantees and safeguards associated with regulated financial services. For example, if a digital currencies exchange platform or a digital wallet provider fails, goes out of business, or is subject to a cyber-attack, funds embezzlement or asset forfeiture as a result of law enforcement actions, the applicable law may not offer any specific legal protection that would cover you from losses or any guarantee that you will regain access to your digital currency holdings. These risks have already materialised on numerous occasions around the world.

The amount of accrued Expenses will reduce the value of the Underlying Assets, you will receive at maturity, upon Redemption or upon Early Termination (as the case may be). Even if the value of the Underlying Assets at the date of your sale is greater than the value of the Underlying Assets at the date of your purchase, you may receive less due to accrued Expenses. The amount of accrued Expenses will reduce the value of the Underlying Assets, you will receive at maturity, upon Redemption or upon Early Termination (as the case may be), which could result in a loss to you on your investment, even if the value of the Underlying Assets at the date of your sale is greater than the value of the Underlying Assets at the date of your purchase.

The NAV on the Maturity Date or the Redemption Date may be less than the NAV on the date of your purchase.

The NAV on the Maturity Date or the Redemption Date may be less than the NAV on the date of your purchase because the NAV is calculated based on the value of the Underlying Assets on each Business Day less accrued but unpaid Expenses.

Tax implications if ETNs are excluded from the official list of the Stock Exchange. If ETNs are excluded from the official list of AIX, all income on ETNs will be subject to taxation in Kazakhstan. Although the SPC will use its best efforts to maintain the ETNs on the official list of AIX, in circumstances where this is not possible, the exclusion of the ETNs from the official list of AIX may negatively affect the tax position of holders of ETNs resident in Kazakhstan for tax purposes, as well as their market price.

Tax on revenues from the Underlying Assets owned by the SPC may reduce the NAV. The SPC may sell the Underlying Assets it owns to cover its Expenses. Besides, the redemption of ETNs is reflected as a sale of the Underlying Assets. In circumstances where the difference between the price of sale and the initial price of the Underlying Assets is positive, such positive amount will be included in the aggregate annual income of the SPC according to the applicable Kazakhstan tax legislation. Also, the SPC as an owner of securities may receive dividends or other distributions less possible deductions (taxes, transactional fees, etc.). Such dividends and distributions received will be included in the aggregate annual income of the SPC. It is not guaranteed that, at the end of the calendar year, the deductible expenses of the SPC will be higher than the aggregate annual income and there will be no corporate income tax payable. Accordingly, the SPC may be obliged to pay taxes that will decrease the NAV.

The SPC may redeem the ETNs prior to the Maturity Date by exercising Early Termination. On any Business Day, the SPC may elect to redeem all, but not less than all, of the outstanding ETNs with no less than 30 Business Days' prior notice by exercising Early Termination. If the SPC elects to redeem your ETNs pursuant to the exercise by the SPC of Early Termination, you may not be able to reinvest at comparable terms or returns.

Risk of changing interest rates. The value of the Underlying Assets may decline when interest rates fall or rise. This decline can occur because the Underlying Assets may include securities which may be sensitive to general financial markets behavior.

You have no rights or interests in any Underlying Assets. Investing in the ETNs will not make you a holder of any rights or interest in the Underlying Assets, including any securities owned by the SPC. Neither you nor any other ETN Holder will have any voting rights, any right to receive dividends or other distributions or any other rights with respect to securities owned by the SPC. Accordingly, the return on your ETNs may not reflect the return you would realise if you actually owned such securities.

The market value of the ETNs may be influenced by many unpredictable factors. The market value of your ETNs may fluctuate greatly during the term of the ETNs. Generally, the value of the Underlying Assets will affect the market value of the ETNs more than any other factor. Other factors that may influence the market value of the ETNs include:

- the volatility of the securities owned by the SPC (i.e., the frequency and magnitude of changes in the value of such securities);
- the market price of the securities owned by the SPC; earnings, financial conditions, corporate, industry and regulatory developments, and other events affecting the particular securities and/or securities market in general;
- the time remaining to the maturity of the ETNs;
- supply and demand for the ETNs, including to the extent such supply and demand may be affected by inventory positions held by the SPC or any market maker;
- economic, financial, political, regulatory, geographical, agricultural, judicial, military, public health or other events that affect the value of the Underlying Assets, or that affect markets generally; and
- the actual and perceived creditworthiness of the SPC.

These factors interrelate in complex ways, and the effect of one factor on the market value of your ETNs may offset or (as the case may be) amplify the effect of other factors.

The liquidity of the market for the ETNs may vary materially over time and may be limited. As stated in the Prospectus, the SPC sold the Initial Placement to the Initial Purchaser. Additional ETNs may also be offered and sold from time to time by the SPC to Authorised Participants. In addition, the number of ETNs outstanding or held by persons other than the affiliates of the SPC could be reduced at any time due to redemptions of the ETNs. The SPC may suspend or cease sales of the ETNs at any time, at its sole and absolute discretion. Accordingly, the liquidity of the market for the ETNs could vary materially over the term of the ETNs. Only the Authorised Participants may request redemption of the ETNs prior to their maturity, and the Redemption is subject to the conditions and procedures described here in the Prospectus.

Historical values of the ETNs should not be taken as an indication of their future performance during the term of the ETNs. The actual performance of the ETNs over their term, as well as the amount payable at maturity, upon early Redemption or upon Early Termination, may bear little relation to the historical performance of the ETNs. As a result, it is impossible to predict whether the price of ETNs will rise or fall.

There may not be an active trading market in the ETNs; sales in the secondary market may result in significant losses. The ETNs are expected to be listed on AIX. However, the SPC is not required to maintain any listing of the ETNs on AIX or any other stock or quoted exchange. Certain affiliates of the SPC may engage in limited purchase and resale transactions in the ETNs, although they are not required to do so and may stop at any time. If an active secondary market exists, the SPC expects that ETN Holders will purchase and sell the ETNs primarily in this secondary market. Even if an active secondary market for the ETNs exists, it may not provide significant liquidity or trade at prices advantageous to you. As a result, if you sell your ETNs in the secondary market, you may have to do so at a discount from your initial purchase price and you may suffer significant losses.

KEY INFORMATION ON THE ADMISSION TO TRADING

Under which conditions and timetable can I invest in the Notes?

ETNs are listed and admitted to trading on AIX on December 20th, 2021.

Why is this Prospectus being produced?

This Prospectus has been produced for the ETNs to be admitted to trading on AIX. Besides, in accordance with AIFC Market Rules, the SPC may not offer additional ETNs, unless there is an approved prospectus, which is not older than 12 months as at a respective placement date; therefore the SPC shall update the Prospectus from time to time.

Conflicts of Interest

Disclosures on affiliated companies within AIX group.

AIX FM Limited is a wholly-owned subsidiary of AIX and acts as a Management company of the SPC and enters into all necessary agreements in the Prospectus on behalf of the SPC. Whereas, AIX CSD, AIX Registrar and AIX MLS are wholly-owned subsidiaries of AIX and may from time to time act as an administrator, registrar, transfer-agent, representative or otherwise as may be required from time to time in relation to the Prospectus, or be otherwise involved in or with other funds and clients which have similar investment objectives to those of the SPC. It is, therefore, possible that any of them may, in the course of business, have potential conflicts of interest with the SPC. Each of these companies will, at all times, have regard in such event to its obligations to the SPC and will endeavor to ensure that such conflicts are resolved fairly and taking into account interests of the investors. Each of these companies has measures in place to minimize potential conflicts of interest.

The services of companies provided to the SPC are not deemed to be exclusive and each of these companies shall be free to render similar services to others so long as its services hereunder are not impaired thereby and to retain for its own use and benefit all fees and other money payable thereby and companies shall not be under any duty to disclose to the SPC any fact or thing which comes to the notice of companies in the course of its rendering similar services to others or in the course of its business in any other capacity or in any manner whatsoever otherwise than in the course of carrying out its duties under contracts with the SPC.

Conflicts of interest may also arise due to the widespread business operations of companies and their connected persons (CEO, CFO, Directors). The foregoing parties may effect transactions where those conflicts arise and shall not, subject to the terms of contracts be liable to account for any profit, commission or other remuneration arising. However, all transactions carried out by or on behalf of the SPC will be on arm's length terms.

In the event that any conflicts of interest arise, each company will, at all times, have regard in such event to its obligations under contracts and, in particular, to its obligations to act in the best interests of the SPC and the ETN Holder (s) so far as practicable. Companies will endeavor to ensure that such conflicts are resolved fairly and taking into account interests of the investors.

Use of Proceeds

The net proceeds of the issue of the ETNs will be used by the SPC for investments in the Permitted Assets only.

Estimated Expenses

The SPC will pay the following expenses:

- operational fees;
- the management fee; and

- other expenses.

The above expenses of the SPC are deducted from, and reflected in the value of, the SPC and, accordingly, the NAV. The effect of the SPC paying Expenses is to reduce the NAV.
